Description about Wikipedia :

Wikipedia is a free, open content online encyclopedia created through the collaborative effort of a community of users known as Wikipedians. Anyone registered on the site can create an article for publication. Jimmy Wales and Larry Sanger co-founded Wikipedia as an offshoot of an earlier encyclopedia project, Nupedia, in January 2001. Originally, Wikipedia was created to provide content for Nupedia. However, as the wiki site became established it soon grew beyond the scope of the earlier project.

Its features:

It is globally available on all platforms

it can provide a large amount of information

Users can share their own thoughts and knowledge

It is easy to use

Available in multiple languages

Referencing and notability

Your article will be rejected if the topic is not notable, is not referenced properly, or violates copyright.

Copyright

Do not copy-paste or closely paraphrase material from sources. Rather summarize what the source says in your own words.

Notability

The topic of an article must already be covered in reliable sources that are independent of the subject. These include academic journals, books, newspapers, magazines, and websites with a reputation for fact checking. Social media, press releases or corporate/professional profiles do not qualify.

Referencing

- Independent sources (see above) are generally acceptable and should be used before other sources.
- Non-independent sources (like company websites or press releases) can be used to verify basic facts only.
- Blogs, social media, and tabloid journalism are generally not acceptable.

To create a reference, use `<ref>{{ref}}</ref>` as follows

`<ref>{{ref}}</ref>` was founded in 1942. `<ref>{{ref}}</ref>` `<ref>{{ref}}</ref>`

More detail on how to cite different types of materials can be found at our introduction to referencing guide

Common mistakes

There are a lot of common mistakes that are made with drafts. Here are a few you must watch out for:

- Writing about yourself or someone/something you're close to
Whether it is yourself, a family member, a friend, an employer, a mentor/business partner, writing about topics close to you (and the people close to you) is discouraged as the article you will create may not be neutral.
- Copy-pasting material
You must write the article in your own words, or it may be deleted.
- Not citing your sources
Articles without independent reliable sources usually get deleted within days.
- Overly promotional language
Terms like "leading expert" and "ground-breaking technology" sound great when promoting a product, but they do not belong on Wikipedia. Let the facts speak for themselves.

COI Editing

Disclosing your relationship with the subject is important in both giving context and transparency with your edits. Additionally, it helps others assist you in making your content more suitable for Wikipedia.

Here are the steps to disclose:

- Edit your user page by clicking here
- Paste the following in the edit box, replacing `Title of your draft` with the article name you wish to create.

`{{UserboxCOI|1=Title of your draft}}`
- Click the "Publish changes" button

You must complete these steps in order to continue.

COI Editing

When having either a business or personal relationship with a subject there are a few things to keep in mind:

- You can request an article
It's improbable when having a conflict of interest to write in a way that doesn't favor the subject unduly. However, you can always request the article be written by someone else. This will prevent you from introducing an intrinsic bias into the article, since a neutral party will be writing the article.
- You can also request edits
Much like requesting a neutral party to make an article for you, you can also request another editor to make an edit on your behalf. More information on how to do so can be found here.
- Stay transparent
Be open about your connection with the subject. There are many editors on Wikipedia, and it's likely you'll interact with them in some way. Being transparent is a integral step in having other editors help you with your article.

Draft Creation

You're all ready to go! When you create your draft, it will not be seen by external search engines. However, when you finish, you'll be able to submit it to be reviewed by our volunteers. Reviews can take a long time, so please be patient and rest assured that your draft will be reviewed in due course. This may take 4 months or more, since drafts are reviewed in no specific order.

You will be redirected to the page where you can put your information or about the article you want to write about.

Creating Draft:About tahir

Instructions

Creating a draft article takes four steps. Please read carefully.

1. Enter the content of your article in the blank area as illustrated. You may use the Wikipedia Cheetheet to properly format your article.
 - Remember to use your own words. Do not copy content from another website.
2. List your references in the bulleted area provided or cite them using inline citations. (See example.)
 - Review what is a "reliable source".
3. If you require assistance with your submission, visit our live chat. You may use any nickname you would like, provided that it isn't already taken.
4. When you are finished writing, click the "Publish page" button. You are all done! We appreciate your submission.

Important

- Please note: Once you click the "publish" button, your draft is saved in a public drafting area. You may continue to work on your draft as long as you like; there is no deadline, but bear in mind that if the draft isn't edited in six months, it may be deleted.
- If the draft is declined, you will still be able to edit it. It is simply marked as declined.
- When you feel your draft is ready to become an article, you can request a review (or a re-review). To do so, edit your draft, by clicking on its "Edit" button, and add: `{{subst:subedit}}` at the beginning of your draft.

Find sources: Google (books · news · newspapers · scholar · free images · WP refs) · JENS · JSTOR · NYT · TWL

Content that violates any copyrights will be deleted. Encyclopedic content must be verifiable. Any work submitted to Wikipedia can be edited, used, and redistributed—by anyone—subject to certain terms and conditions.

Draft:About tahir

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Draft article not currently submitted for review.

This is a draft Articles for creation (AFC) submission. It is not currently pending review. There are no deadlines as long as you are actively improving the submission. Drafts not being improved may be deleted after six months.

Note: The submission-received box will appear at the bottom of the page at first. If it's there, your draft has been submitted correctly.

- To edit the draft click on the "Edit" tab at the top of the window.
- Do not copy-paste material from sources, or your submission will be rejected for copyright violations.
- Write from a neutral point of view and base your article on reliable sources that are independent of the subject.
- It is strongly discouraged to write about yourself or your own business. If you do so, you must disclose it.
